

1974 PAC Winner

Edwin D. Dodd

Edwin Dodd joined Owens-Illinois in 1946 following U.S. Army service on General Douglas MacArthur's staff. He held a number of executive positions over the ensuing 26 years and was elected O-I's chief executive officer in 1972.

An ardent believer in the glass container as the world's best package, Mr. Dodd has his own people hard at work selling the merits of glass as a packaging material and recently called for the rest of the industry to join in making the American people aware that the glass container is ideal from the standpoint of utility, energy, conservation of resources, solid waste, litter, product safety and health, air and water pollution, economics, life style and convenience in our modern society.
